

My top tweets for 2018, by month

December: pervasive racial discrimination: in labor markets, in sports markets (Black players receive on average 20.5% less than their counterparts, all else equal) and in marriage markets

https://www.researchgate.net/publication/228252272_Racial_Discrimination_and_Household_Chores

November: In 1980-81, while a fellow at @Stanford's @CASBSStanford and working on my theoretical paper about how value of time established in marriage markets helps explain labor supply, I went to talk about it with Gary Becker @BeckerFriedman @CleoCZ @ShellyJLundberg

October: Are policies of the Mormon Church based on good social science? @mileskimball

September

@HarryWatson1988 @lesbianplantkin And a certain level of misogyny is considered normal. @DrRobby does this have to do with Oedipus complex?

August: atheism so popular in Kenya? does any country have an Atheist day considered a public holiday? why this day? @conradhackett
twitter.com/conradhackett/...

July: @KhaledBeydoun I am no expert at measuring racism but as an observer I get the impression that African French are happier than African Americans. Before you give advice to the French perhaps you have ideas on making blacks happier in the US? Compensation for slavery heritage? @SandyDarity

June "In Washington, D.C...the federal government reimbursed slaveholders for the cost of their human property, which is to say that the only time that the United States paid reparations for slavery it did so to the benefit of white people." - @jelani9 buff.ly/2MFJouQ

May Mothers attend conferences much less than fathers do. In part due to such monetary costs but also because it may be emotionally costly. So women lose networking opportunities compared to men if they are more involved in childcare

April: you are invited to my webinar organized by Gender and Economics group, part of the Young Scholar Initiative. The webinar will take place this Wednesday, April 18, 14:30-16:00 GMT The title of the talk: "Work in and outside the household "

March: slowing down of entry of women into economics ph Ds ac to REPEC data

February: Since 2003 retirement age going back up

<https://money.usnews.com/money/retirement/social-security/articles/2018-02-12/the-social-security-retirement-age-increases-in-2018>